

Dr. Tom's Tips for Water Safety Month

Children of Tender Years...

While Lifeguards must watch everyone in the swimming pool to prevent drowning, devote a little more time to "Children of Tender Years."

Children of Tender Years are kids under the age of seven and they are not responsible for their actions. As a result, Lifeguards become "in loco parentis" which means you must function in place of the parent.

With the CDC releasing its latest study claiming the #1 cause of injury death between the ages of 1-4, it gives "in loco parentis" even greater importance.

Of course, Noting & Floating these little ones is your best protection against drowning.
